

19

Doing nothing

"Anyone, then, who knows the right thing to do and fails to do it, commits sin."

(James 4:17)

Doing nothing is sin.

Instead of not daring to do anything
it's better to have the courage to take a step despite the risks of making a mistake.

Ethics that accepts mistakes

Fleet of foot

in the light of forgiveness.